Support and Tools

NCG provides risk management support on either a project or consultative services basis. Our experienced professionals make sure that our support is specifically tailored to your individual needs and objectives.

NCG brings the ability to access or integrate data and information from your existing systems. This can be done on an ad hoc basis, or as an established and ongoing monitoring process. This ready access to data helps track the true effectiveness of actions and supports informed decision making.

We can effectively direct risk management efforts or support your internal teams at the project or program level. NCG services are supported by the Symphony suite of online tools. We leverage our internal technical expertise to apply automated tools and data analysis as needed—providing full support across all technical and business aspects of risk management.
