FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

NCG Providing Support to The Center for Grieving Children

Portland, Maine, December 23, 2010 —Northcross Group (NCG) has noted the exemplary work of the Center for Grieving Children and their making a difference in the Southern Maine region.

Since 1988, The Center for Grieving Children has provided loving support to grieving children, teens, families and communities through peer support, outreach and education. The Center currently has over 200 volunteers serving its Bereavement, Multicultural, Young Widow and Widowers Groups, and Community Outreach programs. The Center for Grieving Children receives no government grants or programming—relying totally on community support.

“The Center for Grieving Children has an excellent reputation of working with children in the community. In an area underserved by government attention and programs, the Center helps children dealing with some of the biggest challenges imaginable—providing comfort, support and the tools to move forward. NCG is pleased to support a great organization performing a vital service in the community.” Northcross Group President Christopher Bender said.
